Union Legion's Plans. ENCAMPMENT NEXT YEAR

The Potomac Light Company Is Hard at Work Putting Up the Wires Authorized by the Permit-The Arlington Road Wants to Profit by the New Order of Things.

A committee from the Union Veteran Legion of the United States appeared before the Commissioners this morning, concerning the sational encampinent of the order. To be held here the second Wednesday of next October. They were led by National Past Commander James E. Tanner, known throughout the country as "Cornoral Tanner." The other members were Adit. Gen. M. B. C. Wright, Col. T. F. Shannon, member of the national committee: Cols. Luke Kelly, W. P. Davis, James R. Fritts and Charles E. Troutman, Mr. Tanner was the spokesinhm.

He spoke of how generously the encampinent had been treated at Buffalo, and said this made it necessary for Washington to not increase.

The order was now about prepared to make up its executive committee and with all deference to the other nembers of the board they had come to ask the president. Commissioner Ross, to act as chairman of that commissioner Ross, said that would necessarily be a condition of his acceptance. He deemed it an honor to be a member of the beard.

Mr. Ross said the Commissioners would do anything in their power to make it a success. They would be glad to confer with the representatives of the legion at any time.

ERECTING ELECTRIC WIRES.

ERECTING ELECTRIC WIRES.
The Potomac Light and Power Company is hitching up its times from Eckington to Fort Myer, and in its rapid development of plans gives color to the belief that ex-Secretary Whitney and the great troile syndicate at Philadelphia constitute the ample backing which its members. Messrs. O. T. Crosby and Charles A. Lieb, of New York, have insisted they possess.
Charles S. Hincaman of Philadelphia, presidents of the Washington. Arlington and Falls Church Raifroad, with his brother, Walter Hinchman of New York, and R. H. Phillips of this city, arranged with the Commissioners this morning for a hearing at 41 a.m. tomorrow to ask a reissue of the permit to place a heavy electric power cable on the Aqueduct Bridge.

Mr. Hinchman said they had made all arrangements with President Crosby of the Potomac Light and Power Company to get the Potomac Light and Power Company to grow to run the cars over their line already built from Rossiyn to Fort Myer. They diffusicare to throw good disoney after the bad already suck in that road, but with a firstreakurcture yould run the line and make money.

the bad already sunk in that road, but with a fibal bet. Nire They could run the line and nake moder.

They had alone time a weak wire across the bridge, but as it was not successful the commissioners revoked the permit and it was taken down. They have the arms and fastenings for the wire still on the bridge, however, and Mr. Crosby will use these for its electric lighting of the bridge these these for the selectric lighting of the bridge. Mr. Hinchman is the man who secured the appropriation for the repair of the bridge prin on the Virgina side, at a cost of nearly $50,000. He wishes to come across with his cars some day, and thought the bridge too weak to be safe.

Mr. Phillips said Col. Gordon, commanding at Fort Myer, is heartily in favor of the permit. Mr. Hinchman said the Secretary of War also talked favorably.

The report of Superintendent Cutter of the Manicipal Lodging House sent to Commissioner of Charittes Tracey for last week shows an ingreue of the number of persons kept of 4, the total number heims 206. There is a degreease in the total number of meals-served. The number of resembles was 8, free lodgings, 22; number sent to the hospital, 2; number for whom situations, were segured, 6.

Col. Tracey's assistant, Mr. F. W. Barngido, had a lappe number of applicants for ald at the close of last week. One woman, whose husband is sick and out of work, said they had nearly frozen to death on Friday night in the garret of a Tenth street tenement.

One Thousand Gifts

Such wealth of beauty and richness in exquisite jewelry was perhaps never crowded into 30 small a store before. Almost too small—with its nine busy salespeople walting on a double row of customers. Never mind! It will be a bigger store next year if my business grows as it has done this year. Here are collected the most beautiful gifts from every part of the globe-dreamy pearls from the Orient-mysterious opals from Ceylon-blushing rubles from the mines of Coloonda-dazzlingly brilliant diamonds—how the heart loves a diamond—from Afric—won-drous emeralds from the Indies. All these and many more are here, imprisoned in perfect settings in Rings, Stars, Tiaras, Ear-rings, Brooches, Pendants, etc.

And, let me add, there is nothing so pleasant to me as the showing of shees, rare gent to my customers, be they desirous of purchasing or not.

BUSY WITH THE PLANS

Red Cross Officers Not Ready to Make Announcements.

GOOD FINANCIAL OUTLOOK

Officers of the Society Are Fairly Overwhelmed With Correspondence Hundreds of Volunteers Are Ready to Go. But the Exact Date Is Not Yet Fixed.

Mr. George M. Pullman of the society was also busy with correspondence.

When questioned as to the progress which was being made with the plans for going to Armena. Mr. Pullman said that the imancial outbook was more encouraging, and that they had offers of personal service-from every quarter of the country.

"Their name is ligion, and the volunteers come from every corner of the country, from the Pacific to the Atlantic," he said. NAMES ARE WITHHELD.

Whe asked to give the names of the volunteers so for as the applications had reached the society. Mass Farten said that reached the society, hass Farten said that it would not be just to give them, for the reason that all of them could not be accepted, as they had to be selected according to their peculiar adaptability to the proposed work in the East. It was no disparagement of one's ability if one was not accepted to jon the expedition, but meant simply that the person was not adapted to the performance of this particular kind of Red Cross work.

"We shall announce our staff in a few days," added Mr. Pullman.

In speaking of the method of procedure when the lourney to Armenia shall have been accomplished, Mr. Pullman said:

"Our first work will be to district the field around the central points, from which supplies can be distributed. These central points will have one large center, which will serve as the great base of supplies.

FREPARING TO LEAVE.

PREPARING TO LEAVE. None of the officials at headquarters were disposed to name even an approximate date on which the expedition may be expected on which the expedition may be expected to leave this country.

Miss Earton spoke of the endless amount of details which must be attended to before the headquarters of a great society could be transferred such a distance.

With regard to the exact amount of money thus far promised for fitting out the relief expedition of the society. Miss Barton was also unwilling to speak. The next few days will bring something more definite to the public to be stated, she said, and in the meantime the public must be patient.

Miss Barton said that she should be obliged to deny audience to some callers until the present pressure of work at headquarters is somewhat relieved.

VALUE OF THEIR PROPERTY

Additional Instructions Were Asked by the Respondents-The Court Overruled the Motion With Reference to Compensation-His Remarks Commening the Jury's Task.

The street extent to proceedings in District court. Justice Cox presiding, opened this morning with the examination of property owners in the Beinison & Leighton subdivision, who testified to the value of their improvements.

vision, who testified to the value of their improvements.

John W. McMahan was the first witness. He is the owner of a house on lot 105, which be valued at $3,000.

Mr. McMahon was succeeded by Mr. Albert F. Fox. In addition to his testimony as to improvenents. Mr. Fox was asked what effect upon his judgment of valuations the knowledge of the offer of lot 58 at 75 cents per fold would have, and he replied that it would in his opinion be a fair selling price.

"Which is the their valuable portion of the subdivision, the porth or the south side?" asked Mr. Thomas.

"I think the best ande of it lies on Kenesaw avenue."

"I think the best side of it lies on Kenesaw avenue."
"Retter than the property that fronts on Columbia road."
"Well, that portion is pretty good."
Mr. W. L. Cole here asked for the submission of the correspondence between the Commissioners and property owners in reference to the laying of a sewer to connect property with the Fifteenth street main, and Mr. Thomas of government counsel canceded that there had been such correspondence, and that he had himself advised the Commissioners that such connection was inadvisable.

DENIED THE IMPROVEMENTS.

DENIED THE IMPROVEMENTS.

The point sought to be made was that on account of the projected atreet extensions the government had denied the needed improvements, to the detriment of property and in depreclation of its value.

W. H. U. Thompson was examined in chief by Attorney Lachilet ns to lot 53, on the corner of Kenesaw avenue and Fifteenth street, but Mr. Thomas did not deem it important to discuss lot 53, as it would not be affected one way or the other.

Mr. Fox was forther questioned as to the value of other property, and the damare that would result in case a removal of the improvements becomes accessary.

Robert B. Brown was called to give the value of lots 60, 59 and 55. The last two, he said, were worth $1, the first maned $0 cents, per foot, each being what he regarded as fairt market value. The fact that lot 59 had been offered for 75cents per foot would have effect upoft his opinion.

DEEDS IN EVIDENCE.

bave effect upon his opinion.

DEEDS, IN EVIDENCE.

Several deskis showing a separate ownership in a humber of lots were submitted by Mr. S. R. Bond, Mr. W. L. Call and others as vidence that a division of the property worked greater disadvantage to one-half than to the other on account of difference in depth, location and otherwise.

Benjamin P. Davis was the last witness called, the next preceding being T. C. Danieles.

Additional instructions were asked by the respondents, to the effect, in partitude the ferry after the award is ascer-amed cannot determine benefits, nor inquire what property may be benefited and to what extent by the propertied in provements. Also that the jury shall not assess benefits upon property not attached to the abslivision, and where any parts of a lot is sought to be condemned the jury may not assess possible benefits upon the remainder by reason of the proposed improvements.

mainder by reason of the proposed improvements.

It was also asked that, in conformity with previous proceedings, the compensation for property condemned can not, without the consent of the owner, be made partly in money and partly in the benefits determined as possible by the proposed extension of streets, and for instructions to avoid a do this assessment.

The court formally do the assessment.

The court formally overruled the motion, but said that he was commant of the merits of a part of the contention, and aympathized with many of the reasons advanced. He recognized the fact that it was a difficult lask for the jurymen to perform, but her supposed they would have to do the best they sould with it.

DELIVERED, THE INSTRUCTIONS. Instructions asked for by Attorney Armes, to the effect that the jury shall consider the inconvenience to which properly owners have been subjected by reason of the delay attensing the street extension plans, were granted by the court. This is in line with a decision in the Rock Creek Parkense.

"Now, are we all through?" asked Mr. Thomas.

a decision in the Rock Creek Fark case.

"Now, are we all through?" asked Mr.
Thomas.

"All through." was the response.

The court then delivered such instructions as he regarded as proper.

Justice Cox temarked at the outset that the libstrict does not propose to acquire title in fee simple, but only its use, and should streets projected be ever abandoned the property will revert to the owner.

He said the jury should consider the most valuable uses to which the property can be put, its cash value, what prices have been paid, and make due allowance for difference in location. Also that the enhancing or lessening value of remainder of a lot of which part is taken. Probablesales are not to be considered of-lots in rear of lots having street frontage, but it is proper to consider what, it any, will be lessened in value by the abandonment of streets, and what cohanced by the opening of streets.

The instructions were quite lengthy, covering every phase of the questions at issue.

covering every phase of the questions at issue. The jury in the condemnation proceedings will make another visit this afternoon to the Hennison and Leighton subdivision, but will report at court tomerrow morning at 10 o'clock. A room will then be assigned for its use and the work of digesting testimony will be at once commenced. It is believed a conclusion will be reached by Wednesday evening. The next case to be taken up will be that of Ingleside subdivision, due Wednesday morning.
